We are a local public health department focused on improving the health of people throughout the four Nebraska counties we serve: Butler, Polk, Seward and York. We work with community partners to:

- assist those who need healthcare services,
- provide health education to promote ways to reduce the risk of disease, injury and other health threats,
- investigate disease outbreaks,
- plan for handling emergencies and helping those who need assistance after an emergency happens,
- making sure that women who are uninsured (or those who do not have enough insurance) can get mammograms through the Every Woman Matters program,
- help parents get and properly fit car seats for infants and children;
- seek assistance for those who cannot afford necessary medicines,
- and so much more.

Program Director/Program Mana

Grace Children's Home provides a home-like residential home for up to 25 youth who have been removed from their parental home due to abuse/neglect, or for minor law violations. Youth are typically wards of the State of Nebraska and are in the temporary custody of the NDHHS/OJS system. Appropriate youth who are referred stay an average of 9 months to one year and are age 12-18. Three cottages provide a home-like atmosphere for the youth and they attend the local public school. Individual, family and group counseling are available, for those requiring drug/alcohol and mental health counseling. We do not have access to IOP services, nor do we provide detention services, and we do not utilize overnight awake staff. Youth are integrated into the community and most youth are typically reunified with their parent.

LanguageLinc's mission is to facilitate communication between people of different countries and community by breaking down linguistic and cultural barriers. We offer various languages that reflect the ethnic diversity of our state. Oral communication becomes particularly heightened in medical, legal and specialized fields. In these areas, accurate communication of terms and thoughts are crucial for the complete rendering of care or service provided. Our interpreters undergo extensive training and independent assessment in the following areas: Language fluency in English and test language; interpreting skills; interpreting protocols; industry terminology and professionalism required for specific settings. Using LanguageLinc Interpreters promotes improved service delivery, access to services, and safeguards a company through compliance and risk management. An increasing number of governmental and regulatory compliance policies require health care facilities to have interpreters in place to ensure limited English speaking patients have the same access to quality services as do English speaking patients.

Our trained and dedicated staff strives to care for each family in the most caring and professional manner possible. We hope you can look upon our organizations as your friend in need, always available to serve you and always happy to do anything in our power to make things easier for you in your time of bereavement. Every life is significant! Every life has a story to be told. Let us help you tell that story!

We offer professional advance planning, either through our website or personal contact in our offices or in the convenience of your home. This can be as simple as providing the basic information that will be required to complete death certificates, or a complete family history to provide obituary information. You may also identify your specific funeral choices, whether a full service traditional funeral or the variety of services available for those choosing cremation.

Several of our staff members are also trained to provide cemetery services, whether for the purchase of a new monument or marker for your family, or cemetery services for repair and cleaning of existing monuments. We offer a wide selection of granite and bronze choices including customized designs and shapes to suit your taste and budget.

Pretrial Diversion is a program designed as an alternative to the court system and as a prevention program from future participation in the court system. It allows first time offenders the opportunity for rehabilitation instead of prosecution. By completing the program successfully, the charges against the participant will be dismissed and they will have no conviction on their record. Diversion offers a communications class, parenting classes and a decision making class. Insufficient funds check program, truancy program and drug accountability program are also operated out of the diversion office.
